After several months of Testing the Waters in order to gauge interest from potential investors, we are beyond excited to announce that WorthPoint's offering statement has been qualified by the SEC and WorthPoint is now able to accept investments in a Regulation A+ offering. The stock offering is taking place on WorthPoint's website, and the chance to own a piece of WorthPoint is available to everyone -- accredited and non-accredited investors alike.

As some of you may know, WorthPoint recently undertook a different crowdfunding round under Regulation Crowdfunding. Upon being qualified by the SEC, we decided to terminate that round early in favor of this larger Regulation A+ round, which allows for more flexible investment options both for you as an investor and WorthPoint as a company.

WorthPoint offers the world's largest resource for identifying, researching, and valuing antiques, art, and vintage collectibles using disruptive technology. As a first mover, WorthPoint has built an irreplaceable database and a proven, scalable business model.

The wait is over. We look forward to your investment.
Make your mark with WorthPoint today.

>>>>> UP IN THIS AUCTION <<<<< 1972 Original Oil Painting Man With Red Umbrella Signed Annamarie Trombetta New York Listed Artist - Shabby Chic Condition

- DESCRIPTION - Please be patient there are 12 photos to be loaded in this auction. Up in this auction is a wonderful and delightful oil on canvas painting of a man (I guess it could be a woman) with a red umbrella. This is by Annamarie Trombetta. It is signed on the bottom, but on the back it has written in red on the stretcher, Annamarie Trombetta "Gifted" 1977, "Painted" 1972. To our eyes it looks like it is after the style of Andre Kohn. It is quite large being approx. 48 1/2" tall and 17 1/2" wide. We are calling it shabby chic condition as it has a tear in the canvas, about 5/8" long just to the left of the man's knees, but still such a great painting. For those not familiar with Trombetta, here is information about her from off AskArt as they got it from her website: Annamarie Trombetta (1963 -) Lived/Active: New York The nature of an artist's life, creativity and growth may be synonymously expressed in the image of an archetypal tree. Beginning with the earthly descendent roots the artist like the tree branches out into its surrounding environmental and celestial world. Both ascend and descend, widening their girth of consciousness while producing visual imagery, weathering each season of change. Thus, I believe it is the nature of the artist and of nature itself to regenerate and manifest. All of the imagery in this catalog was either created en plein air or from the subject directly. My journey to becoming an artist began many years ago. The consanguineous roots of my Italian family tree provided me with an innate constitution for my artistic profession. When I was a tiny seed of contemplative thought, my artistic nature began to sprout interest while gazing up at the ceiling paintings in a neighborhood church named Regina Pacis, meaning Queen of Peace. The church located in Brooklyn, NY features ceiling paintings, sculptures, marble interiors, and incorporates architectural elements for the façade and the belfry that are of Italianate design. Before the age of three I was able to surmise that the church in the ceiling painting was indeed the church I was in. The visual stimulation was a form of education. It fostered my sense of perception which became my strongest mode for acquiring knowledge. As the years unfurled, my family moved to Staten Island. At this time it was a scenic field of luminosity, lush vegetation and a harbor view complete with sail boats and small yachts. A few years after we moved my tree of life was in jeopardy of losing a limb. What appeared to be a swollen leg was indeed a cancerous tumor. It was an almost fatal or perhaps even a fated occurrence in my life. The struggle to survive the experience was lightened by my imagination and by my artistic ability to create. I seriously thought I would go into medicine but the posters and paintings in the hospital and doctor's office held my attention more intensely. I began my formal training at The Brooklyn Museum School of Art while I was in high school. The exposure to various forms of art inspired me to expand my horizons and in the early Eighties I traveled on a summer tour to Europe. The tour comprised of six countries; Germany, Austria, France, Italy, Switzerland and England. Viewing so many different cities and cultures in a concentrated period of time...

Hi, Annamarie. The art world is a very dark world and it is our goal to remove as many shadows as possible and supply equal information, and a lot of it, to all. To achieve this goal many auction houses allow us to use their data, including eBay.

We unfortunately do not take the data from eBay you are asking for. We only obtain selling price, pictures and the description. We do not obtain sellers, buyers and all such information you are asking for. I am sorry we do not do that but we never had and it is more information than we are allowed to collect. I do not think that data actually exists anywhere at this point as we are the only persons that have saved this to my knowledge. Since you are the artists, and I have no reason to doubt that, and you feel this is fraudulent, we will remove the item from the site so that it does not mislead anyone on your paintings.

If I can be of any other help, please let me know.

Dear Mr. Seippel and Mr. Watkins,

Allow me to introduce myself to you Mr. Seippel. I am professional artist Annamarie Trombetta. I as well as other people found a listing for a painting entitled 1972 Original Oil Painting Man with Red Umbrella signed Annamarie Trombetta. This is not one of my paintings. There is a photo of a signature A. Trombetta with the eBay logo and Copyright symbol written "Copyrighted work licensed by Worthpoint" with your company logo in yellow next to it. This is not my signature. Please see attachments.

On February 3, 2016 I spoke with Mr. Gregory Watkins. Mr. Watkins also stated that you were at a conference in Las Vegas. I asked Mr. Watkins certain questions regarding the artwork falsely attributed to me. I requested that he e-mail me his answers regarding these questions that I had about this artwork on Tuesday February 3, 2016. Today is February 20, 2016 and nothing has been forwarded to me. I have contacted eBay several times prior to contacting your company.

2. I am the Chief Executive Officer and Founder of WorthPoint Corporation ("WorthPoint").

4. WorthPoint's primary offering, the Worthopedia, is a searchable online database that provides subscribing users with historical pricing data from actual auction and retail sales. The Worthopedia is accessible to users from the website www.worthpoint.com. And it provides subscribers with access to more than 525 million historical auction listings, including historical listings from the online auction website www.ebay.com.

5. In or around January 2016, I became aware that Plaintiff Annamarie Trombetta contacted WorthPoint regarding an auction listing in the Worthopedia that she alleged infringed her copyright rights (hereinafter, the "Allegedly Infringing Auction Listing"). And, on or around February 4, 2016, I caused the Allegedly Infringing Auction Listing, which was displayed at <https://www.worthpoint.com/worthopedia/1972-original-oil-painting-man-red-4892417>, to be permanently deleted from WorthPoint's website. Once deleted, the Allegedly Infringing Auction Listing was never reposted to the Worthopedia.

6. On February 20, 2016, I received an email from Plaintiff Trombetta which stated that a reference to the title of the Allegedly Infringing Auction Listing remained visible when she conducted a "google search for the painting '1972 Original Oil Painting Man with Red Umbrella signed Annamarie Trombetta...'" Shortly thereafter, on March 1, 2016, I responded to Plaintiff Trombetta's February 20, 2016 email and informed her that "we have taken down any pages that you have asked to have taken down as a courtesy to you" and that any reference to the Allegedly Infringing Auction Listing in her Google search "reflected the past" and was the result "of that search engine's memory."

7. On February 5, 2018, Plaintiff Trombetta filed a complaint against Estate Auctions, Inc., Marie Novocin, and Norb Novocin in the United States District Court for the Southern District of New York. Thereafter, on February 21, 2020, Plaintiff Trombetta filed a Response in Opposition to Defendants' Motion to Dismiss (Doc. 36) that was interpreted by the Court as asserting both contributory copyright infringement claims and DMCA claim against both WorthPoint and me. (3)

8. I have never been personally served with a summons or a complaint in the above-captioned matter. Nor has a summons or complaint been delivered to my usual place of abode or to an agent authorized by me to receive service of process.

9. While WorthPoint Corporation was served with a copy of Plaintiff Trombetta's Proposed Amended Complaint (Doc. 33) through its registered agent CT Corporation Systems on May 12, 2020, no summons was served with the Proposed Amended Complaint (Doc. 33) or otherwise delivered to WorthPoint. Moreover, WorthPoint has never been served with a copy of Plaintiff's Response in Opposition to Defendants' Motion to Dismiss (Doc. 36).

I declare under the penalty of perjury that the foregoing is true and correct.

>>>>> UP IN THIS AUCTION <<<<< 1972 Original Oil Painting Man With Red Umbrella Signed Annamarie Trombetta New York Listed Artist - Shabby Chic Condition

- DESCRIPTION - Please be patient there are 12 photos to be loaded in this auction. Up in this auction is a wonderful and delightful oil on canvas painting of a man (I guess it could be a woman) with a red umbrella. This is by Annamarie Trombetta. It is signed on the bottom, but on the back it has written in red on the stretcher, Annamarie Trombetta "Gifted" 1977, "Painted" 1972. To our eyes it looks like it is after the style of Andre Kohn. It is quite large being approx. 48 1/2" tall and 17 1/2" wide. We are calling it shabby chic condition as it has a tear in the canvas, about 5/8" long just to the left of the man's knees, but still such a great painting. For those not familiar with Trombetta, here is information about her from off AskArt as they got it from her website: Annamarie Trombetta (1963 -) Lived/Active: New York The nature of an artist's life, creativity and growth may be synonymously expressed in the image of an archetypal tree. Beginning with the earthly descendent roots the artist like the tree branches out into its surrounding environmental and celestial world. Both ascend and descend, widening their girth of consciousness while producing visual imagery, weathering each season of change. Thus, I believe it is the nature of the artist and of nature itself to regenerate and manifest. All of the imagery in this catalog was either created en plein air or from the subject directly. My journey to becoming an artist began many years ago. The consanguineous roots of my Italian family tree provided me with an innate constitution for my artistic profession. When I was a tiny seed of contemplative thought, my artistic nature began to sprout interest while gazing up at the ceiling paintings in a neighborhood church named Regina Pacis, meaning Queen of Peace. The church located in Brooklyn, NY features ceiling paintings, sculptures, marble interiors, and incorporates architectural elements for the façade and the belfry that are of Italianate design. Before the age of three I was able to surmise that the church in the ceiling painting was indeed the church I was in. The visual stimulation was a form of education. It fostered my sense of perception which became my strongest mode for acquiring knowledge. As the years unfurled, my family moved to Staten Island. At this time it was a scenic field of luminosity, lush vegetation and a harbor view complete with sail boats and small yachts. A few years after we moved my tree of life was in jeopardy of losing a limb. What appeared to be a swollen leg was indeed a cancerous tumor. It was an almost fatal or perhaps even a fated occurrence in my life. The struggle to survive the experience was lightened by my imagination and by my artistic ability to create. I seriously thought I would go into medicine but the posters and paintings in the hospital and doctor's office held my attention more intensely. I began my formal training at The Brooklyn Museum School of Art while I was in high school. The exposure to various forms of art inspired me to expand my horizons and in the early Eighties I traveled on a summer tour to Europe. The tour comprised of six countries; Germany, Austria, France, Italy, Switzerland and England. Viewing so many different cities and cultures in a concentrated period of time...

15. Figure 9 shows, once again, that the visitor on May 8, 2017 also encountered the “404 Page not found” error, which demonstrates with a reasonable degree of professional certainty that the URL had not returned any content and had not been reloaded.

16. I further declare that there have not been any tagging errors or outages that would have caused significant data loss to WorthPoint’s data processing server or Google Analytics account during the relevant time periods from 2012 to present.

17. WorthPoint monitors their Google Analytics account closely and logs issues in Google Analytics as annotations. There are no relevant annotations in Google analytics indicating any tagging errors or outages during the relevant time period.

18. WorthPoint does not sell any artworks or collectables. Rather, visitors and subscribers to WorthPoint’s website are given an opportunity to view available information on sales of artwork. Further, only paid subscribers can view the price for which listed artworks or collectibles previously sold. WorthPoint was not involved in the sale of the 1972 Man with Red Umbrella painting, did not create the content in the listing, did not participate in identifying the artist of the painting, and was not party to the inclusion of plaintiff’s biography in the original listing.

19. According to WorthPoint’s log of price lookups (a true and correct screenshot of which is annexed hereto as Exhibit 3 and Figure 10 below) made from the price guide detail page, only two users made those requests for the artwork described in the subject URL. Upon information and belief, annamarie@trombettaart.com is plaintiff’s email address, meaning that one of the two users looking up the price for the subject painting was plaintiff herself. Upon information and belief, the other visitor, with an address of Simianarts@cs.com appears to have been plaintiff’s friend.

20. I have searched WorthPoint's records and confirmed that neither user referenced in Figure 10 was an active subscriber to WorthPoint's services after February 3, 2016. Once they were inactive, they would not have been able to see the price that the painting previously sold at.

21. WorthPoint's website currently receives approximately 650,000 Googlebot spidering data refresh requests per day to price guide detail pages, which Google does in order to capture the content of those pages for their search engine, as well as cache versions of pages. WorthPoint currently has over 670 million price guide detail pages, which means that on average, each individual page may be spidered by Google and refreshed approximately once per 1,031 days. The frequency at which Googlebot returns to an individual URL may vary greatly, but on average individual price guide detail pages such as the URL in question are requested very infrequently if at all.

22. In my personal experience serving as the SEO lead for WorthPoint since 2008, the overall volume of price guide detail pages and spidering rates were different in 2015-2017 vs currently, but the ratios of how often each page may be crawled and refreshed has remained quite consistent. Annexed hereto as Exhibit 4 and Figure 11 is a true and correct screenshot of WorthPoint's crawl request data:

Hi Jason, is there anyway you can stop Google from indexing this to our site? There us nothing on our site from her, just this link that Google keeps recognizing.

Subject: Marilyn Monroe 1988 Vintage Michael Ochs Archive Chanel Perfume ... www.worthpoint.com › Worthopedia™-----Artist Annamarie Trombetta

Mr. Sieppel,

Please allow me to Re-introduce myself. My name is Annamarie Trombetta. I am an artist . Last year I found a MISATtribution of a painting that I did NOT create on your website--Worthpoint.com which came up on the internet under my name. Specific personal content from my professional biography on my personal artist website was copied, transplanted and posted on your site. A picture of a painted signature on canvas signed A. Trombetta that was NOT MY signature was also photo featured on the Worthpoint.com website listing.

On February 20, 2016 I contacted you via e-mail. Prior to contacting you I had spoken several times with your employer Anita and eventually I was on the phone at length with your webmaster Mr. Gregory Watkins regarding the FRAUDULENT posting of a painting that I did not create. I requested that this Fraudulent listing be permanently removed. I also sent a notice to the company website. SEE BELOW

Ticket #57565: Artist Annamarie Trombetta---Fraudulent Artwork--and links to Fraudulent Artwork

Thank you for submitting your request. We have received your request and are working on responding to you as soon as possible. If you have any additional information to add to this case, please reply to this email.

Thanks in advance for your patience and support.

This message was sent to trombettaart@yahoo.com in reference to Case #57565.

Duplicate # WP000132

I am contacting you once again almost a year later because I found yet again a listing from Worthpoint.com under my name--Annamarie Trombetta artist. Below is today's listing January 4th 2017 of subjects and site which come up when I Google Annamarie Trombetta artist. PLEASE REVIEW --- The Marilyn Monroe listing was the first place where my name was Falsely associated along with the fraudulent painting and signature attributed to me that was listed on Worthpoint.com.
